FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Library Renovation Begins

Kerrville- The City of Kerrville is pleased to announce the start of the renovation of the Butt-Holdsworth Memorial Library (BHML).

The library will close on Sunday, May 22, 2011 to begin replacement of the roof and to complete preparation of the site for relocating the 433 Water Street building. The library will re-open on Tuesday, July 5, 2011 at 10 am in the temporary location, the Kerrville Regional History Center located at 425 Water Street.

During construction, the library hours of operation at the History Center will be Sunday & Monday = Closed, Tuesday & Wednesday = 10 am – 6 pm, Thursday = 12 pm – 8 pm and Friday & Saturday = 10 am – 6 pm. The main library will be closed and unavailable to the public due to the renovation.

While operating out of the History Center, the library will have reduced services. There will be only five (5) public computers available for use at the History Center and the collection size will be limited. Online services through the library website, <http://libraryweb.kerrvilletx.gov> will allow patrons to reserve available books to be pulled and picked up at the History Center the next operating day. Just click on “My Account” under the “My Library” tab on the upper left side.

The Summer Reading Program will continue to be at the Cailloux Theater located at 910 Main Street. More information will come out soon regarding registration and other library programs available this summer.

A grand re-opening of the main library is currently scheduled for early 2012. For more information, please contact Daniel Schwartz, Library Director, at 830.257.8422.
